

Some Counties are Under Control of Night Riders.

Adjutant General Johnson Returns to Frankfort After Tour of Western Kentucky.

Governor Willson's Scathing Letter in Reply to Trigg County Resolutions.

Refuses to Withdraw Troops Because Lives and Property of Brave Men Would Be Endangered.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 22.—It is a question in the mind of Adjutant Gen. P. P. Johnston whether some of the counties in Western Kentucky are controlled by the civil authorities or the night riders, and he is inclined to believe that the night riders have a little the best of it in one or two counties.

General Johnston returned today from a trip through the night rider infested counties where he has been making an investigation of conditions and endeavoring to determine what ought to be done to restore law and order.

Gen. Johnston found that the situation is somewhat tense in many counties and the need for the soldiers still exists.

However, Gen. Johnston found that there is a nucleus of determined and brave men, around which is being gathered an array of law and order men who will eventually bring order out of the present chaos.

In every county there are men who do not believe in the night rider raids, and in fact some men who first started the night rider organization are now trying to break it up.

Authorities Seek Aid.

Gen. Johnston hopes that the tobacco growers of the better class finally will join with the State authorities in putting down the raiders.

In Lyon county, at Eddyville, Gen. Johnston found a peculiar situation. The grand jury returned no indictments and declared that it was unable to secure witness, as county Attorney Krone would not produce the witnesses.

On the other hand, Krone says the grand jury not only never asked him for witnesses, but never even asked for him and never invited him into the grand jury room.

Krone has not stood for raiding which has been done, and has tried to do his duty.

Gen. Johnston found that two of the grand jurors would not sign the report exonerating Judge Cook from connection with the lawlessness unless the report also commended Krone.

The others refused to put in a clause commending Krone and a juror named Dodds refused to sign the report. That night Dodds' barn was burned.

Fire is Suspicious.

The reports sent out are to the effect that the fire was accidental, but it is regarded as suspicious that the fire should have followed so soon after the refusal of Dodds to sign the grand jury report.

Governor Willson today made public the text of the scathing reply to a letter and resolutions which had been forwarded to him by county officials of Trigg County, stating that the presence of troops was not desired in that county and intimating that the soldiers had committed acts of lawlessness.

Trigg county, which is in the dark tobacco district, near the Tennessee line, has been the scene of an unusually large number of night rider depredations.

Judge's Name on Paper.

Gov. Willson, before proceeding to reply, quotes in full the letter and resolutions, which are dated August 18, and forwarded from Cadiz, Ky., and written on the letter heads of the Planters' Protective Association—the organization of the dark tobacco growers.

The signatures are led off with the names of County Judge G. E. Bingham and Sheriff W. C. Broadbent, of Trigg County.

The letter and resolutions recite that at a meeting attended by 500 citizens of Trigg county those present pledged themselves to make every effort to restore order and peace.

Among other statements the resolutions contain the following:

"Without reciting the various acts of violence, and without touching on any acts of lawlessness on the part of the soldiers, we desire to assure you excellency that we can do all or more than soldiers can."

The resolutions state that the presents of the soldiers is a hindrance to the execution of justice by the civil tribunals and declare that their withdrawal would be in the interest of law and order.

In his reply Governor Willson commends the spirit shown by the mass meeting and expresses his belief that those present can restore order in Trigg county if they will do all they can to live up to their pledge.

Hundreds Intimidated.

If such a pledge had been taken at the outset of the depredations, eighteen months ago, and carried out, there would now be no need of soldiers in the county.

"But," says the Governor, "during that eighteen months hundreds of people have been intimidated by a secret-bound league and a long list of crimes recorded."

"And during this time not one of you who offer this pledge has caused the arrest of any body, although many of the crimes were so open and shameless that many of you who sign these resolutions not only knew of the outrages but knew where officers could have laid their hands on the perpetrators."

"You have not made a single affidavit, caused a single arrest, or even asked for a warrant."

Citizens are Scared.

The people of your county were made to feel that they could not rely for help on either yourselves or the peace officers. And while you did nothing yourselves you never asked aid of the State Government, but showed hostility to the State Government's measures to protect life and property."

In conclusion the Governor takes a parting shot at the signers of the resolutions for engrossing them on the stationery of the Planters' Protective Association—a name which, he says, recalls the raids on Princeton, Hopkinsville, and a number of other places.

On the ground that the lives of the few brave men who have attempted to persecute night riders, and who have asked for protection, would be endangered and their property put to further risk of destruction, he refuses to withdraw the troops.

Such a step, he says, would remove what little protection has of late been afforded and leave the district at the mercy of the raiders.

SCHOOL BOARD IS ORGANIZED.

Second Educational Trustees Meet At Earlington Public Graded School Building.

SUPERINTENDENT FOX PRESENT AND TRUSTEES ARE QUALIFIED.

The school trustees recently elected under the new school law held a meeting at the Earlington Public Graded school building Monday for the purpose of organizing the Second Educational District Board. The following minutes of the meeting state the proceedings fully.

Earlington, Ky.,

August 24th, 1908.

Minutes of a meeting held for the organization of Division Board of the Second Educational Division of Hopkins county, under provisions of the "County School District Law," which became a law by approval of the Governor March 24th, 1908.

Pursuant to official call of A. J. Fox, Superintendent of Schools for Hopkins county, dated August 17th, 1908, the newly elected trustees for the various subdistricts of the Second Educational Division assembled at the Earlington Public Graded school building at 10:30 o'clock, Monday morning, August 24th, 1908, for the purpose of organizing the Second Division Board. The meeting was called to order and presided over by Superintendent Fox.

Present in the meeting were: W. R. Whitfield, Moss Hill No. 23; R. H. Smith, Stanley No. 72; W. V. Brooks, Grape Vine No. 50; Paul M. Moore, Earlington No. 45; J. D. Greer, Hecla No. 48; O. C. Adcock, McCord No. 20; George R. Finley, Southard No. 81. All being present except Mart Crawford, of Barusley No. 83.

Supt. Fox made a statement as to the provisions of the new law and the purposes of the meeting, after which the meeting proceeded to the election of officers. Paul M. Moore was nominated for chairman of the Second Educational Division and R. H. Smith was nominated for secretary. These nominations were made separately and the vote being separately taken each was unanimously elected to the offices as named.

As under the law one half of the newly elected trustees are to serve for a period of one year and one half for the period of two years, to be determined by lot, the meeting proceeded to draw lots to determine this matter. Result:—The trustees holding for one year were W. R. Whitfield, Moss Hill; Mart Crawford, Barusley; R. H. Smith, Stanley; W. V. Brooks, Grapevine. Those holding for two years are Paul M. Moore, Earlington; J. D. Greer, Hecla; O. C. Adcock, McCord; George R. Finley, Southard.

The trustees present were duly qualified by Superintendent Fox, who administered the oath of office to each.

After a discussion of certain points in the new law and the expression of general interest on the part of the trustees, and after numerous questions had been asked of and answered by the Superintendent, the meeting, upon motion duly seconded and carried, adjourned to meet again upon call of the division chairman, or, as provided by law, on the last Saturday in June 1909, for the consideration of applications and the election of teachers.

R. H. SMITH.

Secretary Second Division.

PAUL M. MOORE.
Chairman Second Division.
The chairman of the various county divisions constitute the County Educational Board, which will hold its first meeting at Madisonville early in September.

TOBACCO TRUST QUITS LOUISVILLE.

American Tobacco Company Withdraws its Agents From Kentucky.

WILL OPEN HEADQUARTERS IN OHIO METROPOLIS.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—A story is published here this afternoon that the American Tobacco Company has withdrawn its twenty-two country buying agents from Kentucky.

The announcement comes as a complete surprise to local tobacco men and has caused quite a flurry among those interested in the situation throughout the State.

Furthermore, it is known that the company intends to open headquarters in Cincinnati.

The rumor is persistent that the company intends to entirely quit Kentucky. Officials of the American Tobacco Company decline to discuss the outcome of the move.

Louisville has for years been the largest tobacco market in the world, thousands more hogsheads of tobacco being handled on the local "breaks" annually than at any other point.

It is generally accepted that the numerous "night rider" troubles and the intense feeling which exists against the American Tobacco Company in many sections has caused the officials of the company to withdraw the country agents from the State.

FARMER BRAVE ENOUGH TO SHOOT NIGHT RIDER.

While His Barn Was Burning From Fire Started By the Band.

Brooksville, Ky., Aug. 22.—Walter Galloway, a farmer who lives five miles east of Ealmouth, gave a band of twenty night riders a warm reception last night.

Twenty masked men, armed and mounted, surrounded his tobacco barn. Several of them dismounted and applied the torch to the barn. Besides losing his barn Galloway had 8,000 pounds of tobacco burned, Galloway had not been molested, but was awakened by the glare of the flames.

He seized a shotgun and fired from a window into a group of the raiders.

The fire was returned without damage and the raiders galloped away.

Galloway's charge of shot struck one of the men, who rode to Falmouth for surgical attention.

The identity of the wounded man has been disclosed and he may be arrested. He is said to reside on a farm near that of Galloway.

Cloverport Dry by 80 Majority.

Cloverport, Ky., Aug. 22.—This city went dry today by a majority of 80. This city has been dry for eight years and several elections have been held in this time but this is the largest majority yet secured by the temperance people. The election passed off very quietly. The church people and especially many women took a deep interest in the election and the victors are rejoicing greatly tonight.

Substantial Movement For Handsome New Church.

Service of Giving Signalizes Closing Meeting of Series of Revival Services.

Earlington to Have a New Methodist Church Very Soon—More Than $1500 Subscribed

At Meeting Sunday Night at Auditorium Rink—Meeting Conducted by Rev. Brown, the Missionary Evangelist.

Sunday night the series of meetings that had been in progress for three weeks under leadership of Rev. R. T. Brown, of Elizabethtown, Ky., was closed with an enthusiastic and unique service of giving, at which the sum of $1,525 was pledged for the beginning of a fund with which to build a handsome new church in Earlington.

Mr. Brown is a missionary evangelist for the Louisville conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Rev. J. D. Frazor, preacher in charge of the Earlington station, had arranged with some trepidation for the meeting to be held during the hot weather, but it could not be otherwise arranged so as to get Mr. Brown to do the preaching and the meeting was begun under difficulties with the purpose to continue for two weeks. At the end of the first two weeks the interest seemed to be at its height and the congregation could not be accommodated in the little church in the valley.

After consultation it was decided to move into the Auditorium Rink and continue the services for another week. This in spite of the fact that Mr. Brown was well worn out and needed a good rest before he should enter the next meeting which he had promised to hold at Columbia, Ky., beginning on Sunday, the 30th of August. The heat was intense but the people came and attended the services, filling the seats available in the larger building. The last week was the best. The closing day saw sixty-five additions to the Methodist church, besides those who will join other denominations. Quite a number of these chose to be immersed and were baptized in Loch Mary.

The service of giving to the new church fund was a surprise to the most sanguine, though it had not been thought or planned for more than a few hours in advance and few knew such a movement would be attempted. The list was opened for sums from any amount down to twenty-five cents a month for twelve months. As the list grew numerous liberal pledges were made by people of other denominations and others not members of any church. The amounts pledged are payable monthly in twelve equal installments, beginning in October next, or in lump sums as the subscriber may elect. The next morning $100 additional was subscribed in two lots and several other smaller sums are reported.

The church already owns a good lot, recently bought of Mr. Dan M. Evans, on corner Robinson street and Moss avenue, where they have built the new parsonage, now occupied. The lot was bought this year and with the purpose of building a church there when the congregation could do so. Nobody, unless it be the preacher in charge, through whose quiet perseverance and unfailing faith the official membership of the church were brought to act, had any hope that their desires were anywhere so near fulfillment as now appears.

The Missionary Baptist Church will begin a series of meetings at the Auditorium Rink on Saturday next. The services will be conducted by Rev. Gregston, pastor of the local church.

The benches from the Methodist church, which have been used for the meeting just closed, will remain at the rink for use in coming meeting. The Methodist prayer-meeting and Sunday-school will be held in the rink until the close of the Baptist meeting because the church is without seats.

Mr. Ben Ashby, of Madisonville, secretary of the county Y. M. C. A. organization, is generously spoken of for his excellent work in directing the music and conducting the singing, he having been engaged for the meeting by the choir committee.

FIND NO INDICTMENTS.

And County Attorney Krone Says Justice Is Paralyzed.

SAYS NO ATTEMPT MADE TO BRING GUILTY TO JUSTICE.

Eddyville, Ky., Aug. 22.—The grand jury adjourned without having returned any indictments against Night Riders in this section and, as a result, some 180 warrants, based on "information and belief," and sworn out against men charging them with having committed various depredations in this section will probably be dismissed.

Following the discharge of the grand jury, County Attorney Walter Krone made a sensational statement in which he declared that no attempt had been made to bring the culprits to justice and that the work of the grand jury had been a farce. He declared that the grand jury had contented itself with demanding the testimony of but two men, Sanford Hall and Tom Stevens, who are now at Jeffersonville, Ind., when it was a matter of public knowledge that the two men stood in danger of being killed if they came.

The men, according to the county attorney's statement, gave important testimony and will come when any serious attempt is made at investigating the troubles and returning indictments. According to Mr. Krone no attempt was made to get the testimony of other witnesses. The county attorney declared that his own life would be in grave jeopardy if it were not for the presence of soldiers, and said that the administration of justice in this district is paralyzed.

He had only been living there a short time and purchased a small piece of property. Jno. Humble worked at Hecla for several years and left here for Zeigler, Ill., about two years ago. He leaves a sister and mother here. He was unmarried and owned three or four houses in Hecla. Whiskey Election Contest Case.

The contest case between the saloon forces and prohibition resulted in a victory for the drys. The court was composed of county Judge Wilson and Esquires Evans and J. A. Joe. The whiskey men have appealed cases to the circuit court which will convene in September. It may be possible that the court will reach it this term and an injunction will be gotten out to keep the saloons from selling after their license expires. No doubt if the circuit court decides against the saloon men the case will be carried to the court of appeals as they will make a vigorous fight so keep Madisonville a whiskey town, there being 12 saloons there.

TAFT APPEALS TO SOUTH

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE TELLS VIRGINIANS HOW PRESENT POLICIES HELP THEM.

GIVES TARIFF AS INSTANCE

He Argues That No Other Part of the Country Is More Interested in Protection—Raps William J. Bryan's Ideas.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 22.—With a review of the work of President Roosevelt in office, William H. Taft, Republican presidential nominee, appealed to the solid south in a speech here Friday to break away from the Democratic party.

He argued that the south was as much interested in a reasonable protective tariff as any other section of the country. He declared that a great many southern Democrats are opposed to the present leadership of their party and would not be sorry if it were defeated.

He answered Mr. Bryan's slogan, "Shall the People Rule?" by arguing that through President Roosevelt their will had been carried out. He reviewed the laws passed by Republican congresses as proof.

Finally he appealed to southern Republicans to organize and nominate good tickets.

Blames Wilson Bill for Panic.
Reviewing the record of the Democratic party from the time of the last Democratic administration, 1893, Mr. Taft said:

"It repealed the McKinley tariff bill passed in 1890 and enacted the Gorman-Wilson tariff bill of 1893. With the prospect of a Democratic tariff for revenue and under the operation of the Gorman-Wilson tariff bill subsequently passed, a period of industrial depression set in which continued through the next presidential campaign of 1896.

"The remedy for this depression as proposed by the Democratic party under its present leadership was a change from the gold standard of currency and value which was the measure of all pecuniary obligations, to a silver standard—a change which would have scaled the debts of all by quite 50 per cent and would have produced a financial crash in which the business disaster would only have been exceeded by the injury to our national financial honor."

As soon as the Republican party came into power in 1897, he said, it repealed the Gorman-Wilson tariff bill and enacted the present Dingley tariff bill and with the assurance of an honest monetary standard confidence was restored and a period of business expansion and prosperity followed to an extent never before known in the history of the world.

Takes Credit for Good Wages.

Wages were never higher, he declared, and the average standard of living of wage earners, farmers and of the business men in point of comfort and of enjoyment of life was advanced beyond precedent.

Attending this great prosperity abuses developed growing out of the "dishonesty of some prominent men entrusted with the management of the business of others and out of a greed of financial power of some, stimulated by the enormous successes incident to the combination of capital in large corporations."

These abuses, said Mr. Taft, chiefly took the form of the violation of the anti-trust laws and the granting of rebates and discriminations by railways to large shippers. When the extent of these evils was brought home to the people, he said, President Roosevelt evoked the attention of congress and the public to them and proceeded to enforce the laws then on the statute books.

BRYAN FIRES HIS FIRST GUN.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 22.—Comparing the attitude of the two dominant parties on the tariff question, William J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, at the baseball park Friday night, before a vast audience, fired the first gun in the campaign. He attacked the campaign promises of tariff revision and asked if the Democratic party was not justified when it included in its platform the declaration that "the people can not safely entrust the execution of this important work with a party which is so deeply obligated to the highly protected interest as the Republican party."

Whole Aim of Party.

"The whole aim of our party," he said in summarizing, "is to secure justice in taxation. We believe that each individual should contribute to the support of the government in proportion to the benefits which he receives under the protecting government. We believe that a revenue tariff, approached gradually, according to the plan laid down in our platform, will equalize the burdens of taxation, and that the addition of an income tax will make taxation still more equal. If the Republican party is to have the support of the people who find a pecuniary profit in the exercise of the taxing power, as a private asset in their business we ought to have the support of that large majority of the people who produce the nation's wealth in time of peace, protect the nation's flag in time of war and ask for nothing from the government but even-handed justice."

Met by Prominent Democrats.
Mr. Bryan, accompanied by Mayor

Frank W. Brown of Lincoln, Private Secretary Robert F. Rose and several correspondents, arrived at 9:30 Friday morning, two hours later than the schedule called for. The entire party was in a very tired condition owing to the long wait at the station in Lincoln, it being after 3 o'clock before the start east was made. Upon his arrival in this city Mr. Bryan and those who accompanied him were driven in automobiles to the Savery hotel, where the Democratic candidate held an informal reception in the lobby. At the station to meet him were Mayor A. J. Mathis of Des Moines, Mayor Sears of Sioux City, Jerry Sullivan, National Committeeman Wade, Fred E. White, Democratic candidate for governor, and many other prominent Democrats.

After breakfast Mr. Bryan was taken for an automobile ride through the city. This included an unexpected call on Gov. Cummins in the executive chambers. The two men indulged in repartee for ten minutes. The reception by the governor was most cordial. After luncheon Mr. Bryan rested for several hours and Friday night, escorted by the Young Men's Bryan club and many prominent Democrats, he proceeded to the baseball park, where he received an ovation before commencing his remarks. Upon the conclusion of his tariff speech he addressed an overflow crowd in the Auditorium and emphasized his views regarding the election of senators by vote of the people. During the day Mr. Bryan announced that on Wednesday night, on his way from Indianapolis to Topeka, he would stop several hours at Salem, Ill., his birthplace, and deliver a speech from the porch steps. Mr. Bryan left at 10:50 o'clock for Chicago, where he will remain three days and hold frequent conferences with his campaign managers.

Bryan Platform Collapsed.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 22.—While Mr. Bryan was speaking at the ball park Friday night the temporary platform on which were seated several hundred people collapsed. Nobody was hurt and there was no panic, but Mr. Bryan was interrupted for five minutes while arrangements were made for him to continue speaking from the grandstand, where he finished his address.

NOVEL DAMAGE SUIT.

Rug Factory Employee Contracts Tuberculosis and Sues Employer.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—Liability for the contract of a case of tuberculosis is charged in a $25,000 damage suit filed here Friday by Richard Devine against the operator of a rug factory. So far as the local courts are concerned, this is a novelty in damage litigation.

The plaintiff says that in the course of the defendant's business it collected old carpets and worked them up into rugs and that in process no anti-septic treatment was given the carpets for the purpose of destroying the disease germs contained in them. It is averred that the plaintiff can never recover.

$16,000,000 UNDERTAKING.

Contracts Signed in New York to Pave and Sewer Havana.

New York, Aug. 22.—Nearly $16,000,000, it is estimated, are involved in two contracts that have just been signed here, one providing Havana with a proper sewer system and the other for extensive paving of the city. The contracts just signed were between the McGilvray & Rokeby Construction Co. and the Cuban Engineering and Contracting Co. and Uvalde Asphalt Paving Co. It was announced that within two weeks a force of engineers will be in Havana and inaugurate the undertaking.

FEARED BANK'S SAFETY.

Government Redeems Money Decayed by Long Burial.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Of $10,000 in decayed greenbacks sent to the treasury department for redemption by O. D. Earl of Morrilton, Ark., all but $35 have been identified and a check for $9,975 was mailed to Mr. Earl Friday.

Fearing the banks were unsafe, Mr. Earl buried his money in an old pal in 1904. Recently he dug up his treasure only to find the bills were so decayed that he could not discern their numbers. All that was left of the roll was a bunch of paper resembling a package of dry leaves, with here and there the torn end of a note displaying a number. Mrs. A. E. Brown, the burned money expert of the treasury, was given the task of identifying the unrecognizable mass, when Mr. Earl forwarded what was left of his fortune to the treasury department.

After much tedious work, she has succeeded in identifying most of the money.

Judge Parker Called East.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 22.—Judge Alton B. Parker has been called to New York on important law business, and will not be able to attend the meeting of the American Bar association, at which he was to have made the report of the committee on professional ethics and present a code for the government of the legal fraternity. Accompanied by Delancy Nicol of New York, Judge Parker left Friday night for Duluth, Minn., whence he goes by ship to Buffalo.

There are several young men in the city that are thinking of forming an Esperanto class. This, in a few years, will be the universal language and is very easy learned.

Mrs. Robt. Fendwick entertained a few of her friends at her home on Saturday evening. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed themselves until a late hour.

The Sunday school class of Miss Isabell Fraser spent Saturday at the Lake fishing. A spread of good things to eat was laid, but only one fish was caught.

Quite a number of gentlemen and ladies who attended the teachers institute at Madisonville were out here and took in the mines and sights of Earlington.

While there is room for improvement in our alleys, we claim the cleanest and best kept streets of any town in this part of the state. Col. Wood, our street commission is the right man in the right place.

The pressure of the water main on R. E. street, south of Dr. Davis, residence is now very strong owing to the work done by Mr. Bates last week.

People who have gates that open on the street should be very careful to keep them closed. A young lady came very near being seriously injured last week by one of these gates being open. It may yet result in a law suit.

A compressed air pipe blowing out at the shaft on Friday night came very near seriously hurting the night fireman, Earnest Nash and the engineer, Alonzo Griffin. Fortunately the pressure was not very great and they were slightly burnt about the face.

We believe there are growing up in Earlington more bad imprudent boys than in any town in the state. Parents should take hold of their boys and not allow them to run the street at night and try to keep them off moving trains.

There could have been no better selection in the contest case between the prohibition and whiskey forces in Madisonville last week than our fellow townsman, Judge Jno. R. Evans. The Esquire is a good christian gentleman and one that would suffer the loss of an arm, than give an unfair or impartial decision.

Fine crop of mosquitoes this year.

Another meeting to begin at the rink Saturday. There is no excuse for not getting good, but while getting good, get the kind of religion that will keep you good.

Earlington's clothes pressing enterprise has changed hands again. Kinder keeps a person guessing where its "at."

Now comes a scientist who says that beef to be digestible ought to be swallowed in chunks and not masticated. This has been about the only way we have been able to get some of it down us anyhow.

The Mayfield printers are on a strike, and judging from what Bro. Lemon says, they will continue at it. Read this paragraph from his Daily Messenger:

Unlucky Number.

"There are 18 striking printers, who live at 13 places on 13 streets in the city of Mayfield, Ky. It took these 13 printers 18 hours to get 13 hundred circulars 18 inches long. The name of this circular contains 13 letters, and it took these 13 printers 13 hours to distribute 13 hundred at the 13th hour of the day on 13 streets in the city. These circulars were refused by 13 persons, read carefully by 13 men, failed to be read by 13 hundred, and will be the joke of the town for 13 years.

"A house, my kingdom for a house." When we first came to Earlington about seven months ago we wanted a house, and it was only after much scheming, wire-pulling and various other manipulations that two of our friends secured one for us. We were happy in the thought that we were comfortably situated for a long season, but alas! a man came along and bought the property, so we are now in the same predicament as at first. We understand, and have found from sad experience, that houses in Earlington are engaged about six months in advance, so at present our application must be about a year and a half behind, which looks rather blue. We most respectfully ask our friends to help us out, but under no consideration do we want any one to move out just to accommodate us. Price per month is no object—unless it exceeds $75 or $100.

August time, tells on the nerves. But that spiritless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gale, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influence depresses first the "inside nerves" then the stomach, heart, and kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be your again. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated Drug Dept.

JOHN HENRY ON BUTTERMILK.

BY GEO. V. HOBART, ("HUGH M'HUGH.")

"The engineer," sighed Steve.
"Oh, you droll chap," said the pickle-pusher; "give me some tooth-picks." Then Sweet William went over to big window, burrowed into a big chair, stuck his feet up on the brass rail, ate toothpicks, and thought he was IT.

When I got back to Steve he was dealing out the cards to a lady from Reading, Pa.

Her husband had been up in the air with a bum automobile, and when he came down he was several sections shy.

They found a monkey-wrench imbedded in his left shoulder which he couldn't remember using when he tried to fix the machine.

She was traveling for his health.
"My room is immediately over the kitchen," she informed Steve.

"The cook hasn't made a kick up to now," Steve went back at her.

"But they've been frying onions ever since we took the room yesterday afternoon," she snapped.

"Yes, madam," chorled smiling
Steve, "this is a local option town, and the onion is the only pickle that's allowed to appear in public."

She started a get-back, but her indignation choked her, so she gave Steve the society sting with both eyes and founced out.

Steve bit the end off a penholder
and said the rest internally.

Just then a couple of troupers trailed in.

They were with the "Bandit's Bride Co." and the way had been long and weary.

"What have you got—double?"
asked the villain of the piece.

"Two dollars and up!" said Steve.

"Nothing better?" inquired Low Comedy. He was making a crack, but nobody caught him.

"Four dollars, with bath," Steve suggested.

"Board?" asked the villain.

"Nothing but sleeps and a fresh cake of soap," said Steve.

"Ring down!" Low Comedy put in.

"Began to Let a Peep Out of Him."

"Why, we lived a whole week in Pittsburg for less than that."

"You can turn the same trick here
if you carry your own choke and sleep in the park," said Steve.

"What's the name of this mint?"
asked the villain.

Steve told him.

"To the tow-path!" said Barrett
Macready; "we're outside the lifelines.
We thought it was the Liverwurst hotel, where they throw things at your appetite for $1 a day, double. To the left, wheel! Forward, march!"

I followed those two troupers out to the dingy barroom, because the moment I saw them I knew it was a cinch they'd pull some wheezes that that would hand me a couple of guffs.

"The woods for ours! Isn't this a bird of a place for a show to get stranded?" groaned the low comic, as he gave the Reub bartender the high sign, and the latter pushed forward
two glasses and a black bottle.

"It wouldn't have been so bad if the show had gone to pieces in some burg where the people have insomnia in the daytime," the juvenile growled.

"But here, Mike, the men go to work in their pajamas, and the town hasn't any street cars because the conductor's bell sounds too much like an alarm-clock, and it might wake the mayor."

I think that will hold you for tonight, Bunch. It's enough for me, and if I'm strong enough to-morrow
I'll hand you the balance.

Same as ever, J. H.

Secret Prison Writing.

A remarkable secret writing of the prisons has been brought to notice in Germany by Prof. Gross. A wellmoistened sheet of writing paper is laid on a hard, smooth surface under a dry sheet, a hard point being then used to write on the latter, which then at once destroyed. The writing, which disappears from the bottom sheet on gradually drying, reappears distinctly as often as the sheet is moistened.

Air Makes French People Cheerful.

One of the great charms of Paris
is certainly its atmosphere—so clear, light and buoyant; it is like inhaling champagne. Paris in May or June is sufficient to convert the veriest of hypocondriacs into a cheerful, good-natured being. This climate has, no doubt, a great influence on the character of the people, and accounts for their joyousness, their excitability, their wit.—Donahoe's Magazine.

Dear Bunch: I'm doing a hot-foot over the state for the insurance company I've hooked up with, and I'm having the time of my life—believe me not.

Say, aren't some of these Reub
beaneries the woosy limit!

I blew into the Commercial house at Spoonsbury day before yesterday, and His Nobs, the hotel clerk, certainly staked me to a fine bundle of homemade laughs.

Did you ever make Spoonsbury, Bunch?

Oh! It's on the map, all right.

Spoonsbury is a railroad junction where careless people change cars and wait for the other train.

I fell for this "change cars" gag and went over to the Commercial house to kill time.

I was deep in conversation with Steve Splevin, the hotel clerk, when an old guy with Parasol rug trimmings on the end of his chin squeezed up and began to let a peep out of him about the pie he had eaten for dinner.

"Calm yourself!" said Smiling Steve,
"and tell me where it bit you."

Steve has been throwing keys at the wall for some time, and he knows how to burn the beasers.

"Bit me! bit me!" snarled the old guy with the tapestry chin-piece:
"nothing of the kind, sir! I want you to know, sir, that your pie isn't fit to eat, sir!"

"Cut it out!" suggested Steve.

"Cut it out, sir; how can I cut it out when I've eaten it, sir? It's an outrage, and I shall leave this hotel tomorrow," said Omar Khayyam.

"With the exception of $31.72, balance due, that will be about all from you," said Steve.

"I'll see the proprietor," said the old guy, moving away with a face on him like four dollars in bad money.

"We get it good and plenty every day," said Steve, and just then something about six feet tall, wearing a slouch hat and a gilt mustache fell against the counter, grabbed the register and buried a stub pen in its pages.

After looking over the result, I decided the stranger's first name must be Skate, because it looked like one on the register.

"Bath?" queried Steve.

"Only during a hot wave," said Skate.

Steve went to the ropes, but he came up smiling, as usual.

"American or European?" asked Steve.

"Neither," said Skate. "Don't you see I'm from Jersey City?"

"Going to be with us long?" inquired
Steve.

"Say, Bub! you're hellanall on asking questions, now ain't you?" answered Skate. "You just push me into a stall and look the gate—I'm tired."

"Front! show this gentleman to 49!" said Steve, side-stepping to avoid punishment.

Then Sweet William, the Boy Drummer, hopped into the ring for the next round.

Willie peddles pickles for the fun
he gets out of it.

It is Willie's joy and delight to get a ginger-ale bun on and recite
"Oster Joe."

When trained down to 95 flat, Willie can get up and beat the clapper off
"Curfew Shall Not Ring To-night."

When Willie gets a strange-hold on "Sheridan's Ride" you can hear horses
galloping outside.

It's the rest of the community getting out of harm's way.

"Any mail?" inquired Willie.

All the mail that Willie ever gets is

"Struck His Feet Upon the Brass Rail."

a postal card from the pickle factory every two weeks asking him if the people along his route have all lost their appetites.

"No literature for you," Steve answered.

"Strange," said Willie, "my lady friends are very remiss, aren't they?"

"Yes, it looks like they were out to drop you behind the piano," said
Steve.

Willie tore off a short rabbit laugh,
and then inquired what time the next train left for New York.

The pickle factory expects Willie to make Pocomoke City, Squashtown
Junction and Nubbinsville before next Sunday, so he tossed the train gag
just to show Steve that he knows there's a place called New York.

"At 7:45 over the D. L. & Q.," said
Steve.

"What's the next?" inquired Willie.

"At 8:10 over the H. B. & N.," Steve answered.

"Which gets there first?" Willie asked.

"Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are Honest, whatsoever things are Just, whatsoever things are Pure, whatsoever things are Lovely, whatsoever things are of Good Report, if there be any Virtue, and if there be any Praise, THINK

Save It.

Many Earlington people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is an Earlington citizen's recommendation.

James H. Corbitt, living on Railroad St., Earlington, Ky., says:
"Both my wife and self are firm believers in the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills. My wife used them for kidney trouble and found them to be the only remedy that ever gave her relief. We obtained Doan's Kidney Pills at the St. Bernard drug store and are always glad to recommend them to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—
and take no other.

LIGHTNING ENTERS MINE, KILLING TWO.

Bolt Travels Along Tram Road, Striking Men Working 250 Feet Deep.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 22.—
Lightning struck and killed two miners and injured a third so badly that he will die while the two were working 250 feet beneath the earth's surface in one of the mines of the P. & R. Coal and Iron Company at Ranch Gap, near Tower City, this morning.

The dead are George Fogelstein and Philip Ellinger, both married.

The men could not hear the storm which swept over this section early today. A heavy bolt of lightning struck on the rails of a tram road leading through the tunnel, followed the rails to where the men were working and knocked all three insensible.

Two were dead when found.

Night Riders and Merry Widows.

The Night Riders of Kentucky, encouraged by long immunity from punishment for their lawless deeds, have now gone too far. Ruthless and defiant of woman as well as man, they recently swooped down upon the village of Custom and burned
the millinery store of Miss Jennie Myer because they disapproved of the Merry Widow hat, which she was offering for sale,
says the Post Dispatch.

That is where the Night Riders will begin to see their finish. The man has not yet lived who can put the torch to the newest thing in feminine head
wear and go unwhipt of his sins.
Whether he calls himself a Night Rider or merely a disgruntled husband or father, he must pay the penalty for such vandalism. The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, and every such hand in Kentucky will now be raised against these reckless incendiaries of Merry Widow hats. There isn't a home in all the Dark and Bloody Ground whose mistress will consent to shield the Night Rider from justice—she'll turn thumbs down every time she thinks of those lovely hats consigned to the flames.

The Night Riders have themselves to thank for their impending doom. It will be useless for them to appeal from the inevitable. Justice herself is pictured as a woman, and from now on she camps on the trail of the Night Rider with blood in her eye.

Man's Stomach Removed.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 22.—
Richard Gentry, of this county, has just left the hospital here after a most unusual operation.

His stomach was removed a short time ago and the man is recovering, though unable to eat anything but liquid food.

August time, tells on the nerves.
But that spiritless, no ambition
feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Sloop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all,
you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influence deprives first the "inside nerves" then the stomach, heart, and kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Sloop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be your again. Sold porated Drug Dept.

New Oliver No. 5

Sets Swiftest Pace Ever Known in Typewriter Selling.

The wonderful
new model Oliver
No. 5, has taken the market by storm.
Its reception by the public has exceeded in enthusiasm anything we had dared to anticipate.

Employers and stenographers alike have welcomed it as the one machine that answers the multiplied need of the hour.

The cry is for Speed! Speed!
Speed!—and the Oliver responds.

The demand for Durability is filled
by the sturdy, steel-clad Oliver.

To call for a writing machine that will do many things and do each of them equally well, the Oliver answers with its unexampled versatility.

—Its visible writing saves the strain on eye and brain.

—Its legibility lends beauty to its work. The letters that bear the Oliver imprint are the letters that seem to speak.

Oliver No. 5 fairly bristles with new and exclusive time-saving features. We have space to mention only a few of the more important ones.

—Disappearing Indicator shows exact printing point.

—Balance Shifting Mechanism
saves operative effort.

—Line Ruling Device, is fine for tabulated work.

—Double Release doubles convenience.

—Non-Vibrating Base insures stability. Yet with all of those added improvements, we have still further simplified the Oliver by fusing brains with metal.

Oliver No. 5 is a dream come true
—the dream of Thomas Oliver crystallized into this wonderful mechanism of shining steel that embodies very possible requirement of a perfect writing machine.

Lavender Water as Disinfectant.

According to a great French chemist the free use of lavender water by those who must nurse contagious diseases will greatly lessen the dangers of infection. It is certainly a more agreeable disinfectant than most of those in common use and gives a fresh, clean odor to a sickroom that is very agreeable.

Poultry Raising Pays.

Now is the time of year to feed your fowls a good tonic. R4 11-44
cures Cholera, Roup, Gaps and Lim-berneck. When fed as a preventive it not only keeps them healthy but makes them lay. Give each sick fowl 3 or 4 drops 3 times a day. As a preventive feed it in the feed 3 or 4 times a week. Turkeys require a smaller dose. Price 50 cents, no doubt, no pay. Guaranteed by St.
Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated.

WITH THE MINES AND MINERS.

John Wyatt, who for some months past has been at work in the Sturgis mine, is again employed in the Hecla mine as a driver.

Charles Newbold expects to resume work as shot firer in the Victoria mine where he was formerly employed as such.

Foreman O'Bannon, of the Barnsley mine, has been on the sick list the past week. A severe touch of rheumatism has about laid him up.

Superintendent John Robinson, of the Nortonville Coal Co., spent a few hours here last week. He reports prospects good now for a paying business.

All of the Indiana mines were shut down for awhile last week by order of the state officials of the U. M. Workers. But we understand the action did not meet with the approval of the president of the order, and he ordered them back to work. So therefore another conflict of authority exists between state and national officers.

One day last week a father and son descended into one of the Illinois coal mines and came near losing their lives. From some cause the boy let his lamp get too close to a lot of oil that was in the mine and the result was the mine was set on fire and at last reports was still burning.
The father and boy escaped with slight injuries.

A poor colored miner who depended on his daily labor for the support of himself and family was shot from ambush near Pratt City, Ala., last Friday. On the Wednesday night previous his house was dynamited and he claimed he recognized some of the parties who did the dastardly deed, and it is evident they want him out of the way. Still these union miners say they only want their rights in a peaceable way.

Mr. Boyd, who was acting as a coal loader at the Arnold mine, came near meeting with a serious accident a few days ago,
and from which he is still a sufferer. He was standing on a car at the tip when another car struck it, knocking him down and off the car, badly bruising
one of his shoulders and otherwise injuring him.

Chief Electrician N. W. Um-stead, was a sufferer last week from a bad eye, caused by a rising near it, and for several days was unable to attend to his duties about the mines. But he saw that his crew of men were kept busy recovering the office building.

The loss of mules in the mines
by accident is quite an item of expense, and one that has to be considered when the yearly appropriations are made. Seldom a week passes that some poor animal is not rendered worthless
by accident in the mine and in many cases it has to be killed to put it out of its suffering, as was the case at No. 11 mine last week when one of them was killed.

Engineer Joe Brown had some trouble with his little engine last week. As the former would say, "when they hooked it up to the load it, like a balky horse, refused to move forward, but instead went backward." A careful examination showed that some piece of machinery had been wrongly placed, causing it to run backward instead of forward. Joe soon found the trouble and applying the remedy, the hauling of coal was soon resumed.

That prosperity has returned,
was plainly made manifest last week when the St. Bernard Mining Co. shipped over six hundred and fifty cars of coal, and that when the thermometer was registering daily about ninety in the shade. These cars would average over nine hundred bushels to the car and would make about forty-four trains for a single engine. If placed on a single track they would extend for a distance of four miles. Rather a good week's work for dull times, don't you think?

Machinist D. W. Umstead and crew of men were busily engaged the past week transferring another engine from Fox Run to the South Diamond mine, where it will be placed in use soon.
The moving of machinery and the placing of new around as large a plant as the St. Bernard keeps a large force busy.

The first case of prostration
from excessive heat to be reported around the mines this year so far as the writer has heard was that of Foreman William Borders of the car building and repair shop at Hecla. He was at work on the outside one of the hot days lately and succumbed to the heat.
He has been bad off ever since,
the worse effect seeming to be the shock on his nervous system.
His many friends fear it will be some time before he is able to resume his duties.

Over three months ago Forman George Wyatt, of No. 9
mine met with an accident
while examining closely the condition of the mine and came near losing his life, and at the same time lost a hatchet he had in his hand at the time he was hurt. On August 22nd he ventured back to the locality where the trouble occurred and recovered the piece of lost property,
as well as to find the condition much improved. Where he could not go without rubber boots on he can now walk with common shoes and keep his feet
dry. In fact, the mine is in fine condition so far as water is concerned.

Business Agent Matt Ray, of the St. Bernard Mining Company, has returned from a trip to Alabama, where he visited the mining district where the great strike is now on. The trouble exists in seven counties joining each other and promises to be a stubborn one. The chief, and in fact the only bone of contention, is the refusal on the part of the operators to recognize the union.
The operators, he says, are making a strong fight, and as fast
as possible replacing union labor with that of non-union, and although in a crippled condition,
they are producing some coal.
If ample protection was given them the mines would soon be fully equipped with men who want to work but who are afraid of bodily injury.

CLEAR THE COMPLEX- ION OVER NIGHT

Eczema, Pimples, Rashes, Blotches, Eruptionous, Etc., Quickly Eradicated
by New Skin Remedy.

Since the discovery of "A. J. M."
PRESCRIPTION, the new skin remedy, it has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the dispensers who gave it to the world.
It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative powers at the very outset.

In less serious skin afflictions,
such as Rashes, Blotches, Pimples, Blackheads, Barber Itch, Red Nose,
Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, Oozed Feet, results show after a few applications, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. A muddy, greasy or scallow complexion is noticeable after a single application. Those who use "A. J. M." PRESCRIPTION for these skin troubles can get it in 50 cts. $1 bottles, (the one-dollar size holds three times the amount of the fifty cent size) at all leading drug stores.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, and their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is cloudy, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can do and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

The Oldest City.

The oldest historical mention of Jerusalem is in the Tel el-Amarna tablets, about 1400 B. C., while Damascus is mentioned in Gen. 14:15, as existing 1913 B. C., and appears even then to have been a place of considerable note. Beyond a doubt, the romantic Syrian city is the oldest place on earth with a continuous history.—New York American.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do all their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at all leading drug stores. 25c.

Reason for Wedding Ring.

By giving his wife a ring, a husband is supposed to take her fully into his confidence. The fact that the left hand has been chosen to wear it, signifies that as the left is weaker than the right, so is a wife subject to her husband, while the third finger has been selected because of an old superstition that from the third finger of the left hand runs a vein directly to the heart.

Cured Hay Fever And Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." John X. Taylor.

Wise Advice for All.

Gather something from everyone thou passeth on the highway, and from every experience fate sends thee, and out of the wide knowledge thus gained of human weaknesses and human needs, distill in thine own heart the precious oil of sympathy.—A. Fellows Johnston.

Children in Pain.

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all baby's who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial. Sold by St. Bernard drug store. Incorporated.

Will Power and Cheerfulness.

Through will power you may cheer yourself. Think of noble things, think of all who have overcome grief and disappointment, and take the best of life with faith and with courage.

"My child was burned terribly about the face and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The pain ceased and the child sank into a sweet sleep."—Mrs. Nancy M. Macon, Hamlet, N. Y.

On Keeping Happy.

There is no doubt some selfish satisfaction in yielding to melancholy, and fancying that we are victims of fate; in brooding over grievances, especially if more or less imaginary. To be bright and cheerful often requires an effort; and in this respect, as in others, we require to watch over and manage ourselves, almost as if we were somebody else.—Sir John Lubbock.

Nature's Warning.

If the eyes close irritably at the light, if they twitch or the eyelids jump or blink rapidly after some strain of work, if the eyelids redden in strong light and nervous crows' feet or wrinkles appear around the eyes, any time before at least 50 years of age, then trouble lies ahead if the eyes are neglected.

Served as coffee, the new coffee substitute known to grocer's everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, will trick even a coffee expert. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Pure healthful toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc., have been so cleverly as to give a wonderfully satisfying coffee taste and flavor. And it is "made in a minute," too. No tedious 20 to 60 minutes boiling. J. F. De Vylder.

A Fortunate Man.

One day a young matron to the market place did go, where she bought an oyster plant, then set it out to grow. Said she: "Next winter we'll have oysters, fresh oysters every day, and what a saving it will be, with not a cent to pay. Oh, but hubby should be thankful it was his lot in life to get such a saving woman for his own little wife."

Passed Examination Successfully.

James Donahue, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies, and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes, but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Cure. After the second bottle I showed improvement, and five bottles cured me completely. I have since passed a rigid examination for life insurance." Foley's Kidney Cure cures back-ache and all forms of kidney and bladder trouble. Jno. X. Taylor.

WING'S WHIPPING

By Phil Simms.

The warden's leather strap fell on the prisoner's white flesh and red-headed 648, face downward on the floor, a convict holding each arm and leg, writhed in agony.

"Wing," the giant black trusty, the prison doctor's stable boy, had seen it, and a glitter of intense hate flashed in his eye as he turned away muttering:

"He tried to get away. To-night I'm goin' and I'll stay gone, or—"

"Oh Wing, Wing!" called a baby voice back of the trusty, and "Dr. Pills," the five-year-old pet of the prison, son of the doctor, came running up to the black.

The hunted gleam vanished, a soft light came in his place.

"Wing" fed the doctor's horses, drove the cows in from the pasture, hitched the visiting preacher's mule to the buggy and left in direction of the prison.

But he dodged into a side path leading toward the swampy creek, and stopped before a huge tree. He thrust his arm into a hollow and drew forth a bundle.

It contained trousers, shirt, soft hat, cheap revolver, some cartridges, a long knife, stale food and a little money. The collection had taken him months.

Soon, rock weighted, his prison garments lay at the bottom of a deep pool.

Southward the Alabama river, northward Birmingham. Skilled by virtue of many "sham escapes" in evading the stockade bloodhounds, he waded into the creek.

Free! Free! Before him the sweet-smelling woods, glorious in dogwood blossoms and honeysuckle. Behind were prison bars, a 20-year sentence and a beating.

"Wing" fondled his revolver. He would never go back!

"Dr. Pills" had disappeared!

Bedtime came at the doctor's house and still no sign of the boy. The prison was alarmed, likewise the village near, but no one had seen "Dr. Pills."

The stable boy was called for at the prison. The astonished reply was that when the count had been made the guard thought "Wing" at the doctor's, detained as he sometimes was, after hours.

So "Wing" had escaped! "Dr. Pills" missing, too!

Had he been murdered? Kidnaped? Past midnight, "Wing" still keeping to the shallow stream, stumbled on.

His escape now was sure. He had gained the most dismal spot in all the untrod swamp, and here he might rest for a day, then leisurely make his way.

Suddenly he stopped and listened. He thought he heard a voice like the wall of a child. There! It came again, and so weird was it out there in the swamp "Wing" heard his own heart beat.

Again it came—a child weeping surely as sin!

He waded in to the bank, calling softly, and instantly a glad cry answered:

"Oh, 'Wing,' I'm so glad! I knew you'd come!"

"Dr. Pills, by—" he muttered.

To leave the child there he knew meant its death. But it was not his funeral. Should he take him back, himself to be beaten? To serve his 20 years more? To give up his freedom for which he had planned so long?

Never!

"Please take me on your shoulder, Wing," pleaded the baby voice. "I'm so afraid!"

"Why'n't you didn't you—" he began, surlily, but ended with: "How'd you git heah?"

"I crawled up in the back of the preacher's buggy and went to sleep. When I woke up I was skeered awful and just jumped out and started back along the creek, an'—an'—that's all."

"It was a pig trail, honey Pills, an' hit don't go no whar. You never seed dis path befo!"

The first lights of rosy dawn shot athwart the low country and touched the mists that hung low and white above the creek. The hounds had failed. "Wing" was gone and "Dr. Pills" with him.

The doctor and his wife were beside themselves with grief.

Suddenly the dogs whining in the yard sent up a bay, and a moment later a tall, tattered, wet, muddy and scratched-up black, a sleeping child in his arms, staggered up the walk, the hounds knowing him, leaping joyfully about him.

Doctor, warden, prison guards, neighbors, started with amazement, while the mother with a glad cry ran forward.

"I fetch 'im back, missy," Wing murmured, and sank exhausted on the steps. "I'll take my whuppie!"

But he never got it.

These Bad Pains

which give you such exquisite suffering, every month, are caused, as you know, by female trouble. Relief seldom or never comes of itself. It is necessary to cure the cause, in order to stop the pains, and this can only be done if you will take a specific, female remedy, that acts directly on the womanly organs.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Madisonville Loses Championship of Western Kentucky

Journals Vs. Russellville.

The Journals and Russellville played two games at Madisonville Monday and Tuesday for the championship of Western Kentucky, Russellville winning both games, the first by a score of 4 to 6 and the second 9 to 2. This makes four games played by these two teams, Madisonville only winning one game.

In the first game, Johnny Simpson, Madisonville's old pitcher, twirled for Russellville, with Horn behind the bat.

Johnny did his best work and the printers, although they played a good game, lost. Burden and Davis was the battery for the Journals.

In the second game, the Journals had a fine chance to win the game until after the fourth inning, when Sis Hopkins, the pitcher became ill of an attack of acute indigestion, which left Madisonville without a pitcher, as Burden would not take the box except for a few innings on account of having to pitch the game at Central City against the Boston Nationals. First baseman Pace, who never before pitched ball, was put in the box and held the Lynchers down to runs, while the Journals made 2. At the end of the fourth, when Hopkins became sick, the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of the Journals.

Journals 7, Purities 3.

The Henderson Purities and Journal team played the fifth game of the season at Madisonville, resulting in a victory for the printers, as has three other of the games, the brewers winning one on errors at Henderson two weeks ago.

The Journals were easy winners from the start, bringing in two runs in the first, which was followed by three in the fourth on Prather's home run and two in the seventh.

The Brewers made two in the third, and one in the ninth on Hopkins' error. The following is the score:

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchitis and nervous troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

Prather. Sacrifice hit, Bryan. Umpire, Lindsay.

The Earlington Athletic Club played the Madisonville High School an exciting game at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon. The E. A. O's had the game cinched in the ninth inning, when by three costly errors the M. H. S. piled up six runs, making the score 9 to 10 in favor of Madisonville. The game was full of errors on both sides. Lynn twirled for M. H. S. and was found for ten hits, and struck out six men. King tossed for E. A. C. and let the M. H. S. down with only six hits and made twelve men fan the atmosphere. He pitched a steady game throughout and did not take the famous airship trip as reported. He would have won the game easily with proper support. The E. A. C. was fortunate in securing him, as he is one of the best amateurs in Western Kentucky.

D. B. Wilson, former manager of the Journals, has resigned, and Pulliam Smith has been elected to the place. "Pullie" is the right man in the right place.

Three better base runners than Stone, Donan and Goldnamer are not to be found.

Booneville, Ind., and Henderson played at Henderson recently, but we have been unable to secure the particulars of the game other than that Booneville won.

The game at Central City yesterday between the Boston Nationals and Central City was decidedly the best played in Western Kentucky this season. Resulting in a score of 8 to 4 in favor of the Boston.

The Central City team was composed of the best players from Central City, Madisonville, Princeton, Russellville, etc., and were all first-class players, and gave the Bostonians a good game. Central City led the score in the first part of the game, and would perhaps have won had it not been for Haygood's errors. Burden pitched a faultless game for the first 6 innings, setting down 9 men. He was relieved by Stevens in the seventh.

The Bostonians were in their usual good form, and made the boys play stiff ball.

WALL KILLS DOZEN

SIXTEEN INJURED MEN AND SIX BODIES TAKEN FROM RUINS.

THIRTEEN ARE STILL IN THE DEBRIS

When Front Collapses Police and Fire Department Are Called Out.

Chelsea, Mass., Aug. 26.—A dozen men are believed killed, a number injured, in the collapse of a brick building in Chelsea Square Tuesday. Six bodies and 16 workmen badly hurt have already been taken out.

The dead: Ferri Santa, 48 years old; Felechi Goulfa, 34; Myr Arlock, 60; Morris Zachlad, 38; two unidentified dead.

Jacob Colm, forman, is among those buried in the fallen mass of debris.

The men were at work on the inside of the building, 35 in number, rebuilding the structure, when the front wall collapsed. Members of the Police and Fire Departments and citizens are still working to dig out the remaining bodies in hope some may be living.

Thirteen men are still buried in the ruins.

Police and Firemen at Work.

Immediately following the crash a general police and fire alarm was sounded. Ambulances from the Marine and Naval Hospital responded, and the work of rescue was begun.

The building was being rebuilt by Maurice Gordon. All but the front wall had been destroyed at the time of the Chelsea fire. Thirty-five men were employed about the building, and most of these were on the inside.

The building adjoins the Park Hotel. It is a four-story building and was formerly occupied by Wm. T. Burns, a furniture dealer.

Every available ambulance and even moving vans are being used to remove the dead.

Five ambulances from the Marine and Naval hospitals, one from Boston, three from Chelsea, and three moving vans are carrying the dead and injured from the ruins to the Marine Hospital.

SPRINGFIELD WITHOUT TROOPS.

The Last Regiment Leaves for Chicago To-day.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26.—The Seventh Regiment, Illinois National Guard, has been ordered to withdraw from the city and by 10 a. m. to-day there will be no soldiers in Springfield.

The orders to withdraw were given by Adjutant General Scott to-day.

A special train on the Illinois Central will carry the troops back to Chicago.

At a conference held between Governor Deneen, Sheriff Werner and representatives of the military forces in the city it was decided that the further presence of the armed men was unnecessary. It was thought by Sheriff Warner that a detail of men should be retained for the rest of the week, but it was the prevailing opinion that further military aid was unnecessary.

DENEEN GOT 212,983 VOTES.

Alleged Pirate Seized.

Marquette, Wis., Aug. 26.—On charges that the boat has been cruising along the shores of the lake as a pirate, the little steamer Monroe of Escanaba, Mich., has been seized here. The crew are held on charges of larceny.

The charges state that the boat would run into a port, seize everything in sight and steam out into the lake again. Several rifles were found on the craft.

Discouraged Minister Kills Self.

New York, Aug. 26.—Ill, half-blind, criticising the church on score of untruthfulness and insincerity and declaring that he could not worship "America's trinity—success, pleasure and gold," Rev. Albert H. Trick killed himself in a room in Mills' Hotel yesterday. He was once pastor of a Presbyterian church in Chicago and later had a charge at Saratoga, N. Y.

Bridge Falls Under Crowd.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 26.—A telephone message from Camden, S. C., says the toll bridge over the Wateree River near that place was washed away by floods Tuesday, carrying with it about twenty-five people. Meager reports indicate that the dead number eight. Telegraph lines in that section are down and communication is difficult.

KERN TOLD OF NOMINATION

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT REPLIES TO SHERMAN IN ACCEPTING.

BRYAN SPOKE ON TRUSTS

Hooier Candidate Devoted Some of His Address to the Question, "Shall the People Rule?" Norman E. Mack Presided.

Indianapolis, Aug. 26.—John Worth Kern, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, was notified formally yesterday of his nomination by the national convention at Denver and accepted the honor in a speech delivered to 15,000 people in the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds.

The notification speech was made by Theodore E. Bell of California, chairman of the committee selected at Denver to officially inform Mr. Kern.

William Jennings Bryan, candidate for President, was present and spoke at length on the subject of trusts. The meeting was called to order by Thomas Taggart, member of the national committee from Indiana, who relinquished the gavel to Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, N. Y., chairman of the national committee. Mr. Mack presided throughout the meeting.

Preceding the notification exercises Mr. Bryan, Mr. Kern, Chairman Mack and members of the national, congressional and notification committees held a conference at the Denison Hotel, where luncheon was served, and the entire party was driven through the principal business streets of the city to the Fair Grounds. Following the meeting Mr. and Mrs. Kern entertained Mr. Bryan and the visiting Democratic leaders at the Country Club for dinner.

Bryan Speaks at Birthplace.

Mr. Bryan left last night over the Vandalia Railroad for Salem, where to-day he will speak at his birthplace and will go from there to Topeka, Kan., and then to Lincoln, Neb.

Chairman Mack left last night over the Big Four and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads for Washington.

Twenty members of the notification committee, representing as many states, attended the meeting. Special trains on the railroads and traction lines brought the crowds here and 500 street cars were used to transport the people to and from the Fair Grounds.

The day was ideal. Crowds lined the streets and Mr. Bryan was greeted with a continuous wave of applause.

Commoner Gets Demonstration.

At the Coliseum the speakers, especially Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern, were given enthusiastic ovations, the Bryan demonstration lasting several minutes, during which men stood and threw their hats in the air in their effort to express their welcome.

Thomas H. Marshall, Democratic candidate for Governor, spoke briefly and was warmly greeted. Mr. Kern's speech was in part in reply to the speech of acceptance delivered at Utica by Mr. Sherman, the Republican candidate for Vice-President. He devoted some time to the question, "Shall the people rule?" deprecating what he claimed is the excessive power in the hands of the speaker of the House of Representatives, and denied that the people have ruled, because he said that he had not been given effect. He charged that there is a power within the Republican party determined that the people shall not rule, which power has manifested itself whenever effort has been made to check the destructive work of unlawful combinations reduce the tariff or equalize burdens by legislation. The Democratic party, he said, would draw the line between lawful business lawfully conducted and unlawful business conducted illegally.

Independent Notification Postponed.

New York, Aug. 26.—The ceremony of notification to the Independence party candidates, Thomas L. Higen and John Temple Graves, which had been set for Saturday night, Aug. 25, has been postponed to Monday night, Aug. 26.

A 260-Acre Hill in Kentucky Found to be One of the Richest Pieces of Ground on Earth.

About 100 years ago there was discovered a large ledge of rock underlying fifty-five acres in Solnhofen, Bavaria.

This discovery revolutionized the art of printing. The rock is known as Lithograph Stone. The Bavarian quarry has been supplying the stone ever since the discovery to every lithographic printing plant in the world. Besides the profits earned by the quarrymen, the royalties paid to the Government and community interests amounts to nearly sixty million dollars.

Lithographic printing grew from year to year until now it is the large end of the business of the 700 representative printing plants in the United States, and the 1,600 in other parts of the world.

For fifty years the face of the globe has been prospected for this remarkable stone. Scientists, both individually and in the employ of Governments, have spent fortunes in an effort to artificially produce lithographic stone, only to fail. Bavaria has enjoyed up to this time one of the few natural monopolies known.

In the most recent report made by the United States Geological Survey it is stated that the supply is becoming unsatisfactory, both in regard to quality and dependability. As a proof that the Bavarian quarry is nearly exhausted, it is an established fact that the peasants' cottages, built decades ago out of lithographic stone, have been and are being torn down and the stone sold to importers' agents.

A new quarry has been found and proven, located within one mile of Brandenburg, Meade county, Kentucky, containing 91-2 foot ledge covering an area of 260 acres, a property approximated to be worth into the hundreds of millions of dollars. The corporation named below has acquired this property, opened it up, developed it sufficiently to prove the continuity of the ledge and the character of the product from which the stones have been taken and shaped for commercial use, from which the highest possible grade of commercial lithographic work or printing has been produced.

Read Carefully each statement and proposition made below:

Extracts Taken From a Report Issued by the Department of United States Geological Survey:

"Lithographic stone is a fine, compact, homogeneous limestone, which may be either pure carbonate of lime or dolomitic. * * * * * Practically all the lithographic stone used in this country is imported. The actual value of lithographic stone and the extent of the industry is but little understood by the people in general."

"The main source of lithographic stone is at Solnhofen, Bavaria, Germany. These quarries have been supplying the United States with stone for many years, but are said to be becoming unsatisfactory, both in regard to quality and dependability of supply. * * * * * The orders for German stone by firms in this country have not been expeditiously filled."

"Many samples of supposed lithographic stone said to have been obtained in this country, have been sent to the engraving department of the Geological Survey for examination. * * * * *

The only quarry opened is at Brandenburg, Meade county, Ky. The layer of limestone which furnishes the best stone is about three feet in thickness and is nearly horizontal. This quarry produces no 'yellow' stone. Its entire product is a stone of good quality, and is of a blue-gray color. Stones of the largest size required have been obtained, and in all respects this product compares favorably with that from the German quarries."

"There has been no domestic production of lithographic stone until within the past year or two, and all that was produced was obtained from the quarry at Brandenburg, Ky. The actual figures are withheld in the protection of individual statistics."

"The value of the stones varies with the quality and sizes, from 3 1-2 cents per pound for stones 16x22 inches to 17 cents for stones 43x64 inches. These prices are for 'best yellow stones' such as are used in the printing work of the Geological Survey. Gray and blue stones cost considerably more. (The Government Geologist states that our quarry does not contain the 'yellow' grades, but the 'blue-gray,' which ranges in price from 11 to 50 cents a pound.)"

Expert's Report on the Life of the Property

The Bavarian quarries have lasted nearly seventy-five years, yet in acreage they are smaller than the Brandenburg quarries. Col. Albert Scott, who probably has the largest experience in varieties of stone and stone quarries of any gentleman in Kentucky, states as follows:

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 5, 1908.
German Lithographic Stone Co., No. 18 Kenyon Building, Louisville, Ky.:

Gentlemen—By your request I made a careful examination of your Lithographic Stone Quarry near Brandenburg, Ky.

At the point where you are now quarrying you have exposed ledges of lithographic stone 9 1-2 feet in depth. These ledges are of a blue-gray color, in layers from 12 to 24 inches with perfect open seam between, which will enable you to take out stones of the largest dimensions required.

I traced these ledges about four thousand feet along the side of the hill on the company's property to where I found another excavation, exposing the same ledge 9 1-2 feet in depth. I saw outcroppings of the Lithographic Stone both above and below the ledge you have opened. Quarrying back only 50 feet on the 9 1/2 foot ledge horizontally (which could be easily and economically done) would furnish nine million pounds of the Lithographic Stone each year for twenty-five years. I am satisfied this ledge extends back under the whole property of 260 acres, and would never be exhausted.

Very respectfully,
ALBERT SCOTT.

Dic. A. S.
N. B.—The U. S. Government Geologist, in his report refers to the 'upper ledge.' He advised, when making his official examination for the department, that there would be found, by going deeper, another ledge of Lithographic Stone of a finer texture and quality than that contained in the ledge examined by him and finally reported on by the United States Geological Survey. It is from this ledge that the Lithographic Stones were obtained that were used by the various lithographic houses and their experts in producing the higher grades of lithographic printing reported upon by them.

Mr. D. L. Billings, Secretary German Lithographic Stone Co., No. 18 Lenyon Building, City:

My dear sir—Herewith is returned to you the lithographic stone which you had on exhibition at the Jamestown Exhibition. As the Exhibition Commission has some time since notified you, the award of a bronze medal was given this exhibit.

I did not write at the time, but immediately upon the announcement of awards I entered a vigorous protest against this medal, contending that it should have been a gold one. The discovery of a product of such value and world-wide use in the printers art, especially as it has only been found on this continent in Kentucky, deserved more than the usual consideration. Very truly yours,
C. C. O. A. M. C. C. OUSLEY, Secretary.

BLATZ & KREBS STONE COMPANY.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12, 1907.
German Lithographic Stone Co.

Gentlemen—We have shaped a great many imported Lithographic Stones for lithographic houses in this city. We have recently done similar work on a number of stones taken from your quarries at Brandenburg, Ky., and so far as our experts can ascertain the stones worked for you are as fine in texture and quality as the stones imported from Solnhofen, Bavaria, Germany.

Very truly yours, BLATZ & KREBS STONE CO.
Per Phil Krebs.

BUT ONE PROPOSITION REMAINS TO BE PROVEN. HERE IS THE PROOF:

The World Our Market.

As to our controlling the markets of North and South America, there never has been any question in the mind of the gentlemen composing the company for the reason that the expense of the water haul across the Atlantic necessary to bring the Bavarian product to this market would of itself give this company the advantage. We are informed, however, by lithographic houses that the Bavarian quarries are nearly exhausted. This fact opens to us the world for a market. In order to further prove this, we addressed a letter to the largest dealer in lithographic supplies and distributor of Lithographic Stone in Brussels. We received promptly a reply, from which we quote the following:

Produits De Graphites—Electricite.

Department Lithography.

Bruxelles, le Jan. 12, 1908.

The German Lithographic Stone Co., 128 rue de l'Instruction, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

Gentlemen—We have received in his time your favor of December 12, 1907.

If your pieces are all that you have write, and if they are from a "blue-gray" color, a stone very much inquired and very difficult to procure in Bavarian Country.

Say us kindly in which conditions you would accord us a sale concession of your stones. We are indisposed of first class references and from a serious clientship which only ask to be worked with products alike those you presented to us.

In awaiting, we remain yours faithfully,
H. LOOR et Cie.

If the largest lithographic supply house in Belgium, only a few hundred miles by rail from the Bavarian quarries, is uneasy as to its future source of supply and anxious to secure "sales concessions" of our stone, we believe we are safe in saying the world is OUR market, and that the world must look to our quarries for its future adequate supply.

Who is better fitted to judge the quality and commercial value of Lithographic Stone than the men whose lives have been spent in working Estimates and Prospective Profits.

The plans and estimates for a plant are based on a capacity of nine million pounds of dressed lithographic stone per year, or three car loads weekly. These figures are based on contracts that have been offered the company. One of the five leading American importers alone has offered to contract for minimum of one car or 60,000 lbs. weekly. This output, sold at even a minimum of ten cents a pound, would bring $900,000 a year. It will be noted in the report of the U. S. Geological survey that the "yellow" stones from Germany sell for this price, and the "gray" or blue stones, such as these quarries produce, sell for very much more, so that 10 cents a pound is a very conservative estimate.

Shipping Facilities.

The quarries of this company are located about half a mile from the Ohio river, and down grade all the way, over a good road, thus enabling the company to ship its product by boat. In addition to this the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis railroad now runs within a mile and a half of the property and has recently completed a survey and is about to build a line passing directly through the property of this company, and intends to make with the stone, who are experts of the leading lithographic houses of Louisville? They are as anxious as this company to see the property equipped with a plant necessary to quarry, shape and condition the stone for market. They want the old "blue-gray." They know we can furnish it, for they engraved the highest class of work upon it, have submitted it to every test known in order to prove its quality. They give their opinions as follows:

To whom it may concern:
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24, 1907.
The Brandenburg, Kentucky, stone, upon which I engraved and gave a thorough trial, is in every respect very good. It cut smooth and a finer line could not be realized on a German stone. Would not have known it was any other than a German stone if I had not so been informed.

With Courier-Journal Job Printing Co.

J. Gradel, Designer and Engraver.

German Lithographic Stone Co.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 2, '07.

Dear Sirs—I wish to say that stone you furnished me from your Brandenburg quarry fully meets all of the requirements of the engraver.

Your stone is equal to the best Blue-Gray stone imported from Germany. I give this opinion after many years practical work as an engraver. Very truly yours, J. GRADEL.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 9, 1908.
German Lithographic Stone Co., Louisville, Ky.

Gentlemen—In reference to the Lithographic Stone from your quarries furnished for a test, permit me to say that same is identical with the better grades of the German Stone in every respect and the highest class of engraving is possible with it. The fact that the Bavarian quarries are becoming an uncertain source of supply makes the discovery of an American quarry of great importance to lithographers everywhere. It is to be hoped that you will soon be able to prepare your stone for the market.

Respectfully yours,
H. BOEGENHUSEN.

Asst. Supt. Lithographic Dept., Courier-Journal Job Pt. Co.

There is on file in the company's office the originals of all the reports, documents and evidences, samples of lithographic printing, of stone from our quarries and a large collection of other documentary proof, all of which is open to the public.

IMPORTANT

In conclusion, we will say that it is possible for an investor to purchase security at par on basis of $1,000,000 capitalization with a physical property behind the security that contains a product, practically inexhaustible, that is used by every civilized nation on the globe; that the supply required

Falls City Litho. Co., Lithographers.

German Lithographic Company.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 12, 1908.

Gentlemen—This is to certify that I have printed from the Kentucky Lithographic Stone furnished by the German Lithographic Stone Company, of Brandenburg, Kentucky, and find the stone works as well as the imported stone. It does not tint the work near it. Keeps a smooth surface etching with strong acid. The job printed was run on bond paper, dry, and printed without any trouble.

(Signed) JOHN T. KEANY, Foreman.
Falls City Litho. Co.

Kentucky Litho. Company, Lithographers.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 5, 1908.

Brandenburg Lithographic Stone Co.

I have given the Brandenburg Lithographic Stone a thorough test for transferring, and find it first class in every respect. It stands the strongest acid without harming the solids, and holds every speck of the work. Deep engravings will not mesh or blur and the closest of rulings will not quash, and I find it as good as any German Stone that I have ever worked on.

Yours truly, EDW. EYERMAN, Transferer.

With such a proposition proven, what is it worth to you? If a company getting out building stone can pay handsome profits and dividends on rock that they sell at a fraction of a cent per pound, what should a company possessing a physical property containing a 9 1/2 foot ledge, and the only remaining one in the world, of lithographic Stone that sells from 11 cents to 50 cents a pound? A ledge as extensive as any known common building stone ledge, yet worth in the market fifty times the value of the best building stone, or fifteen times the value of marble.

Such values are difficult to comprehend except by comparison. Here is one: A 9 1/2 foot ledge of blue-gray Lithographic Stone one acre in area is worth more than three million dollars.

by the lithographic houses throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and South America alone would enable this corporation to pay a dividend of from 80 to 500 per cent.

It is exceedingly important that every reader should learn that the incorporators of this company, organized in January of this year, are the only individuals who have mined from their quarry Lithographic Stone, and that the 9 1-2 foot ledge recently opened was previously unknown. This statement is given in order to prevent anyone who may be interested in this advertisement from confusing our property with many supposed finds of Lithographic Stone in Kentucky, and particularly with an earlier find of a low-grade upper ledge on the property referred to. It is only since January, this year, that the rock has been taken from the 9 1-2 foot ledge recently discovered, and only since the date named that the finest and various types of lithographic printing has been produced from our rock for the various customers throughout the United States and Cuba by a leading lithograph house of this city, namely, the Courier-Journal Job Printing Company.

Prior to September 1, the stock will be sold at par. Orders can be sent through your broker or

It would take 200,000 years for one acre of wheat to produce the same money.

A knowledge of the facts enables one to realize that the company is justified in promising tremendous dividends.

Based upon the minimum earnings of dividends, subscribers to any part of the first 100,000 shares will secure the stock at par, therefore—

$10.00 will buy 10 shares, which will upon minimum estimated earnings pay $8.00 annually, and the stock, one year after plant is in operation, should be worth $80.00.

$25.00 will buy 25 shares and should earn $20.00 annually. Stock should be worth, one year after plant is in operation, $200.00.

$50.00 will buy 50 shares and should earn $40.00 annually. Stock should be worth, one year after plant is in operation, $400.00.

$100.00 will buy 100 shares and should earn $80.00 annually. Stock should be worth, one year after plant is in operation, $800.00.

$500 will buy 500 shares and should earn $400.00 annually. Stock should be worth, in one year after reduction begins, $4,000.00.

$1,000 will buy 1000 shares and should earn $800.00 annually. Stock should be worth one year after reduction begins, $8,000.00.

There are, besides the Government printing offices, 692 lithographic printing houses in the United States. We supply a certain ten of the 692 and pay 10 per cent. dividends on a million capital.
